Wait A Minute!

A father is by definition, "someone who carries photos where his money used to be." My favorite all time Father's Day story is as follows:

"As ham sandwiches go, it was perfection. A thick slab of ham, a fresh bun, crisp lettuce and plenty of expensive, light brown, gourmet mustard. The corners of my jaw were aching in anticipation. I carried it to the picnic table in our backyard, picked it up with both hands but was stopped by my wife suddenly at my side. "Hold Johnny, (our six-week-old son), while I get my sandwich," she said. I had him balanced between my left elbow and shoulder and was reaching again for the ham sandwich when I noticed a streak of mustard on my fingers. I love mustard. And I had no napkin. So I licked it off. It was NOT mustard. No man ever put a baby down faster. It was the first and only time I have sprinted with my tongue protruding. With a washcloth in each hand I did the sort of routine shoeshine guys do, only I did it on my tongue. Later my wife said, "Now you know why they call that mustard 'Poupon.'"

Now, let me give you this all important reminder; whether you are a young father with younger children or an older father with adult children, or somewhere in between. You will never be a perfect father. You will get mustard (or worse) on your face. But you can be a productive father. Love always. Be available much more than you are unavailable. Be prompt and gentle with your discipline. (If you wait, you are more likely to discipline with way too much anger) Admit when you make a mistake. And then give an example of what it means to walk with God. These reminders will keep you on course to becoming not a perfect but a productive father.

See you this Sunday as we treat our Father's to a steak dinner.

"You have heard that it was said, 'You shall not murder. But I tell you that anyone who is angry with a brother or sister will be subject to judgment. You have heard that it was said, 'You shall not commit adultery. But I tell you that anyone who looks at a woman lustfully has already committed adultery with her in his heart. (Matthew 5: 21-22; 27-28)
