This Sunday: “Jacob Vs Self-Sufficiency”

Wait A Minute!

The following tidbit comes from Illustration Digest. A young man applies for a job as an usher at a theater in the mall. The manager asked him, "What would you do in case a fire breaks out?" The young man answers: "Don't worry about me. I'd get out okay."

When it comes to hope, don't worry about me, I'll get out okay. But according to the Bible, I'm an usher. And as an usher, I should worry about others getting out okay as much if not more than I worry about me getting out okay. It's called outreach.

Outreach comes in many different forms and has a variety of flavors. It can be as simple as inviting someone to come to my church. It can involve me explaining my Christian faith. It can be a church providing a live internet stream of its services. It could be giving financially to a missionary or to a ministry organization.

This Sunday, we have an opportunity to be ushers in the movie theater. We will host an Embrace Grace Baby shower. Everyone is invited to attend. With this event, we are giving. We are loving. We are showing grace. In other words, we are ushers helping others get out okay.

Show up Sunday with a gift and let us demonstrate what is so wonderful about our church.

As always, I thank you for the opportunity of ministry and service; and I do look forward to worshipping with you this Sunday.
